CLASSIFICATION OF RISKS.

First-class, detached dwellings and contents for the purpose of assessments, in event of loss, be charged as basis rate on each $100 of valuation, 50 cents.

DEFICIENCIES—

For one or more stovepipes extending through the roof, floor or side walls, add to basis rate, 50 cents.

For one or more terra cotta flues extending through the roof, floor or side walls, add to basis rate 10 cents.

For cloth lining for whole or part of any dwelling, unless closely tacked to wall and papered or painted, add to basis rate 25 cents.

Detached barns or stables and contents rated at $1.50.

Barns over 400 feet from dwelling, used for storage only, rated at $2.00.

School-houses and churches rated $1.50.

Fruit Driers, $4.00.

All buildings to be detached and not less than 60 feet from other exposures. 25 cents on $100 added on all buildings less than 60 feet from exposures.

Contents to rate the same as the buildings in which they are kept.

An outbuilding (except a barn or stable) in which no fire is used, is not an exposure to a dwelling; but a barn or stable is an exposure to a dwelling, or a dwelling is an exposure to a barn or stable.

When two or more buildings adjoining or adjacent are occupied by the same person for a common purpose so that the buildings, although separated, constitute a single hazard, are not exposures to each other.

NOTICE TO AGENTS.

On diagram show all buildings insured, and all exposures within 100 feet; say just what each building is occupied for, and mark distances in figures between all buildings shown on Diagram.

Judge W. S. Hurlbut
Campbell.

Dear Sir:

We would like to change the position of our Kitchen range.
The chimney is old & cannot be added to. It does not draw well. Some time I will put on a new addition & a new chimney.
Meantime to change the range means a pipe through the Kitchen roof.
There is but one thickness of board. no attic. as the Kitchen is only a single lean to about 7 or 8 ft. high.
We would put on a galvanized iron plate & collar & a tall pipe on next of this. The question is as to whether this would affect our insurance.
I do not see any more risk as it is all open & easily within reach. The pipe would be on the farthest edge of the house. Kindly let me know your opinion at college

Yours truly,
W. S. Bickerstaff

When the house was insured the stock was not large enough to make a larger insurance – But the President said later – they could increase it & I would like another $1,000 on the house.

a Barn has been built on adjoining lot – near the Barn & think I suppose is why the rating was larger on the Barn I would like it extended so as to make the insurance safe I think the foreman was there & visited it & said they could add $1000 on the house. J.B.
